Thursday, 1 June 1950

A [REDACTED] starts working on narco-analysis bibliography.

Friday, 2 June 1950

A B6 [REDACTED] says [REDACTED] is not yet cleared and therefore does not have access to all of the Nuremberg and other trial material.

[REDACTED] Parts of the classified sections of the trial in [REDACTED] does not cover this subject. [REDACTED] has not yet recovered from heart attack. Seems advisable to postpone contact indefinitely with [REDACTED] [REDACTED] insulin or electric shock therapy and other phases of subconscious isolation.

After adequate cross checking, contact with following should be considered:

B6 [REDACTED]

Friday, 2 June 1950

B6 B3 [REDACTED] could not keep appointment so had incidental interview with [REDACTED] under [REDACTED] No mention of narco-analysis, but better list of [REDACTED] and their interests in administration.

Tuesday, 6 June 1950

B6 B3 Interview in [REDACTED] with [REDACTED] re activities during war. He has full-time program with [REDACTED] but is eager to cooperate with CIA. He knows of enemy espionage and counter espionage during war. [REDACTED] and he cooperated. [REDACTED] did not indicate any familiarity with the latest information on subconscious isolation, in fact he has not yet

B/6 met [REDACTED] although he knew [REDACTED] during the war. He will give us names of past contacts and bring a roster up to date by adding new names which are available through his [REDACTED] contact.

Thursday, 8 June 1950

A [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] met. [REDACTED] has not yet received copy of requirements which were submitted through [REDACTED]. [REDACTED] says the original requirements were altered, promises copy of revised requirements. [REDACTED] again promises appointment with [REDACTED] early next week. [REDACTED] going on leave so [REDACTED] will proceed. [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] did not reveal any connection between [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] for liaison between [REDACTED]. Agreed that [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] would have interview with [REDACTED] regarding interrogation of [REDACTED] B/6

B/6-A 3:30 p.m. Interview with [REDACTED]

B/6 [REDACTED] has the most complete file on narco-analysis seen to date. Has an extensive table of drugs used by the Russians, including Harmaline. There was emphasis on narco-analysis with little on hypno-narco-analysis. However, he is definitely concerned with psychiatric interrogation. From the treatment of psychiatric cases, the group finds that the patient remembers what went on during the period of narcosis.

B/6 B/3 Discussed the [REDACTED] Interrogation. The [REDACTED] has arranged to place [REDACTED] in the [REDACTED] for 48 hours. [REDACTED] says the [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] are not especially interested and will not be included in the interrogation. Interrogation will be covered by two technical doctors [REDACTED], [REDACTED], and [REDACTED] during the complete physical examination and [REDACTED] will be brought in during the physiological testing and during subsequent interrogation. The Russian use of duress and narco-analytical methods will be covered. Political and other interrogation will be conducted at a later date. [REDACTED] has been advised of the advisability to exclude other CIA representatives during the preliminary testing.

B/6 A [REDACTED] was very much annoyed by [REDACTED] memo. Requesting information, [REDACTED] assured him that a reply would be limited to [REDACTED] persons, and that [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] would be the direct contacts for CIA.
